MediOpus – Doctors

We are an innovative company based in London offering a very different recruitment service in the healthcare workplace. MediOpus's core focus is one of bringing together the best doctors and nurses from around the world and streamlining the complexities of relocation. We are driven by our values, always aiming to deliver an enduring impact for each of our clients and on building life-long relationships with everyone we work with and represent.

MediOpus will connect three audiences; medical professional, individual trusts and NHS England. Currently, there are no organisations that pursue our highly unique and proprietary approach. We recognise that making the choice to move to a new country is big and sometimes difficult one to make, and the process for registering, applying for jobs and making local arrangements whilst overseas can be daunting.

We provide superior personalised support from the very beginning of the journey, finding the perfect healthcare job in England, helping to navigate the complexities of registration with professional and regulatory bodies and walking through every step of the relocation process. Even after everything is secured with a successful relocation, we are committed to maintaining a life-long, professional relationship including an emphasis on continuous professional development, career progression and, most importantly, a positive impact on well-being.

What can we do for you?

- CV and application support
- Registration with the GMC
- Job searches and interview
- We can also help you prepare for job interviews by providing sessions
- Home Finding & Area Orientation
- Opening UK bank accounts and applying for mortgages
- Registration for Health services and utilities for your new home
- Move Management by a selection of specialist international moving companies operating under the FIDI code of practice
- School places for children up to the age of 18
- Support once placed
